Featured Company Women's Peace Collection

womenspeacecollection.com

The Women's Peace Collection is an enterprise that fully supports women in regions of conflict and post-conflict - as mothers, peace builders, entrepreneurs, and skilled artisans.

They are a company that believes in the power of creative enterprise as a foundation for healthy and vibrant communities. They offer a meaningful collection of distinctive handmade gifts created by talented women who are rebuilding their lives in the shadows of war, civil strife or crippling poverty. They live in refugee camps, remote villages, distant townships in areas of the world that are considered volatile and challenging. In some instances, the women are left to single handedly support their families, their men having disappeared or died in conflict. In others, the women work closely with their men and together they create family enterprises that support their dignity and well-being.

A woman who is offered the opportunity to actively engage in meaningful enterprise experiences a sense of value and self worth and the knowledge that through her work she can contribute to the wellbeing of her family, community and larger society. No longer a victim of circumstances, she recognizes that it is her own spirit of resilience and resourcefulness that allows her - and her family - to step into their future with optimism. Her world transforms.

Investing in women lays the foundation for prosperity and peace in our world. Each gift on The Women's Peace Collection is a testament to this hopeful vision: women's hands are a force for peace.

INFANT TODDLER NEWS

The Infant Room would like to ask parents to please donate their unused plastic grocery bags. Bags can be left in the bin outside the office door.

Also, please remember to label your child's clothing and belongings. With the winter months upon us the children are more likely to misplace their "layers."

The Toddler Room would like to thank the parents for working on sign language being taught in school at home with their children. The children love learning and using sign language throughout the day and are really picking it up quickly.
